KING'S CUP RACE

Pilot Forced Down

London, Sept. 8. The qualifying heats of the King's Cup Air Race were flown to-day. Last-minute withdrawals included the Comet, in which Mr. F. Campbell Black made his recent fast time to Cairo and plans shortly to make a return flight to Canada, and the Heinkel, in a Heinkel D.H. 60.

The fastest machine left was a Percival New Gull, entered by the Duke of Kent and flown by Captain E. W. Percival, which was handicapped as for 196 miles per hour.

The first machine home to-day was a Hawk, piloted by Mr. F. G. Miles, who completed the course at an average speed of 163.75 miles an hour. The Percival New Gull was second at 162 miles per hour. There were two women competitors, of whom Miss R. Slow, on a Hawk Six, was eighth to complete the course, but was later disqualified for a technical fault in "rounding one of the turning points."

The only serious mishap to competitors occurred when A. Henshaw in a Hawk, was forced down at sea while on the forty-mile section across the Irish Sea, which is an innovation in the race but the pilot jumped clear of the machine and hung on to the wreckage until rescued by a passing steamer.

The final will be flown tomorrow over a circuit measuring 51.68 miles, the machines turning round pylons and covering the circuit seven times.

EXCITING FINISH

London, Sept. 8. The elimination stage of the King's Cup air race resulted in an exciting finish at Hatfield Aerodrome to-day when F. G. Miles, flying a Miles Hawk M-5, crossed the line one minute ahead of Captain Percival, wartime ace, who was piloting the Duke of Kent's entry.

Captain Percival led the whole way but in a moment of forgetfulness passed the aerodrome. When he turned back, just too late, it was to see Miles sweep down towards the landing field.

Miles covered the course of 953 miles, including time for stoppages, in five hours 40 minutes.

CANADA TO KEEP OUT OF WAR

Ottawa, Yesterday. "It trouble comes it will be somebody else's fault, not ours, and I conceive it to be the solemn duty of the Government, by all just and honourable means, to see that Canada is kept out of trouble," declared the Premier, Mr. R. B. Bennett, in a broadcast speech at the launching of the Federal election campaign.

He said that Canada was conscious of the dangerous international situation. In world politics Canada should be secure, for she had no ambitions which peace could not gratify.

"Canada has bought and paid for security and peace, and we mean her to have them. We will not be embroiled in any foreign quarrel where the rights of Canadians are not involved."

THE PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

Great Relief To Business

New York, Sept. 6. President Roosevelt's statement that his basic programme of reform and recovery has reached "substantial completion" and that the breathing spell wanted by business is now here, is considered most significant in Wall Street circles where the opinion is freely expressed that the President's statement will be a great relief to business.

Some, however, believe that business needs more than a breathing spell. They feel that the budget should be balanced and that taxation should be reduced. Living cost, too, must be kept down before genuine recovery is possible.

On the other hand, few officials in Washington believe that President Roosevelt is prepared to surrender the extraordinary emergency powers vested in him by Congress, at least in the near future.

Big business men in some quarters believe that the President's statement is pure propaganda, aimed at introducing an atmosphere of confidence preparatory to the 1936 election.

Reuter.

MARKET REACTION

New York, Sept. 6. The stock market reacted buoyantly to President Roosevelt's announcement with regard to his reform programme. Many Democrats expressed pleasure at a calling of a halt to the period of sweeping reforms.

On the other hand Republicans feel the announcement does not go far enough. They declare no recovery is possible without a balanced budget. Co. Gen. Frank Knox, Republican presidential "possibility" and newspaper magnate, declared: "It is just another promise—important if it can be relied upon."

PUBLIC OPINION IN BELGIUM

Disapproves Italian Attitude

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Brussels, Sept. 7. Before the Belgian delegation to the plenary Assembly of the League of Nations, headed by the Premier, M. Van Zeeland, left for Geneva yesterday evening, the Premier had a long conversation with the Italian Ambassador, Count Vannelli-Rey, emphasising that public opinion in Belgium is predominantly in favour of Abyssinia, the largest Catholic paper, the "Libre Belgique," and the Socialist Labour Party's organ, "Le Peuple," in particular emphatically voicing disapproval of the Italian attitude.

The anti-Italian sentiment is further exemplified by speeches given by the representatives of all the political parties at a public meeting of the League of Nations Union, at which a resolution was adopted calling on the Government to declare solidarity in Geneva with those States which support the maintenance of the applications of the League of Nations Covenant.

A second resolution addressed to the League of Nations demanded that the League Council apply the provisions of the Covenant without restriction, and should not shrink from applying sanctions against a State which embarks on a war of aggression.

THE GEOLOGICAL MUSEUM

London, Sept. 6. The removal of the Geological Museum from its former cramped quarters in Jermyn Street, off Piccadilly, to a spacious new building in South Kensington, where the League's International Monetary and Economic Conference was held in the summer of 1933, has already been justified by the increased interest shown by the public in the exhibits, which are now attractively set out, and provide a fascinating introduction to what has hitherto been one of the less popular of sciences.

Since the opening of the premises two months ago, there have been daily attendances of a thousand, compared with a former annual total of visitors of under 21,000.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produces complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

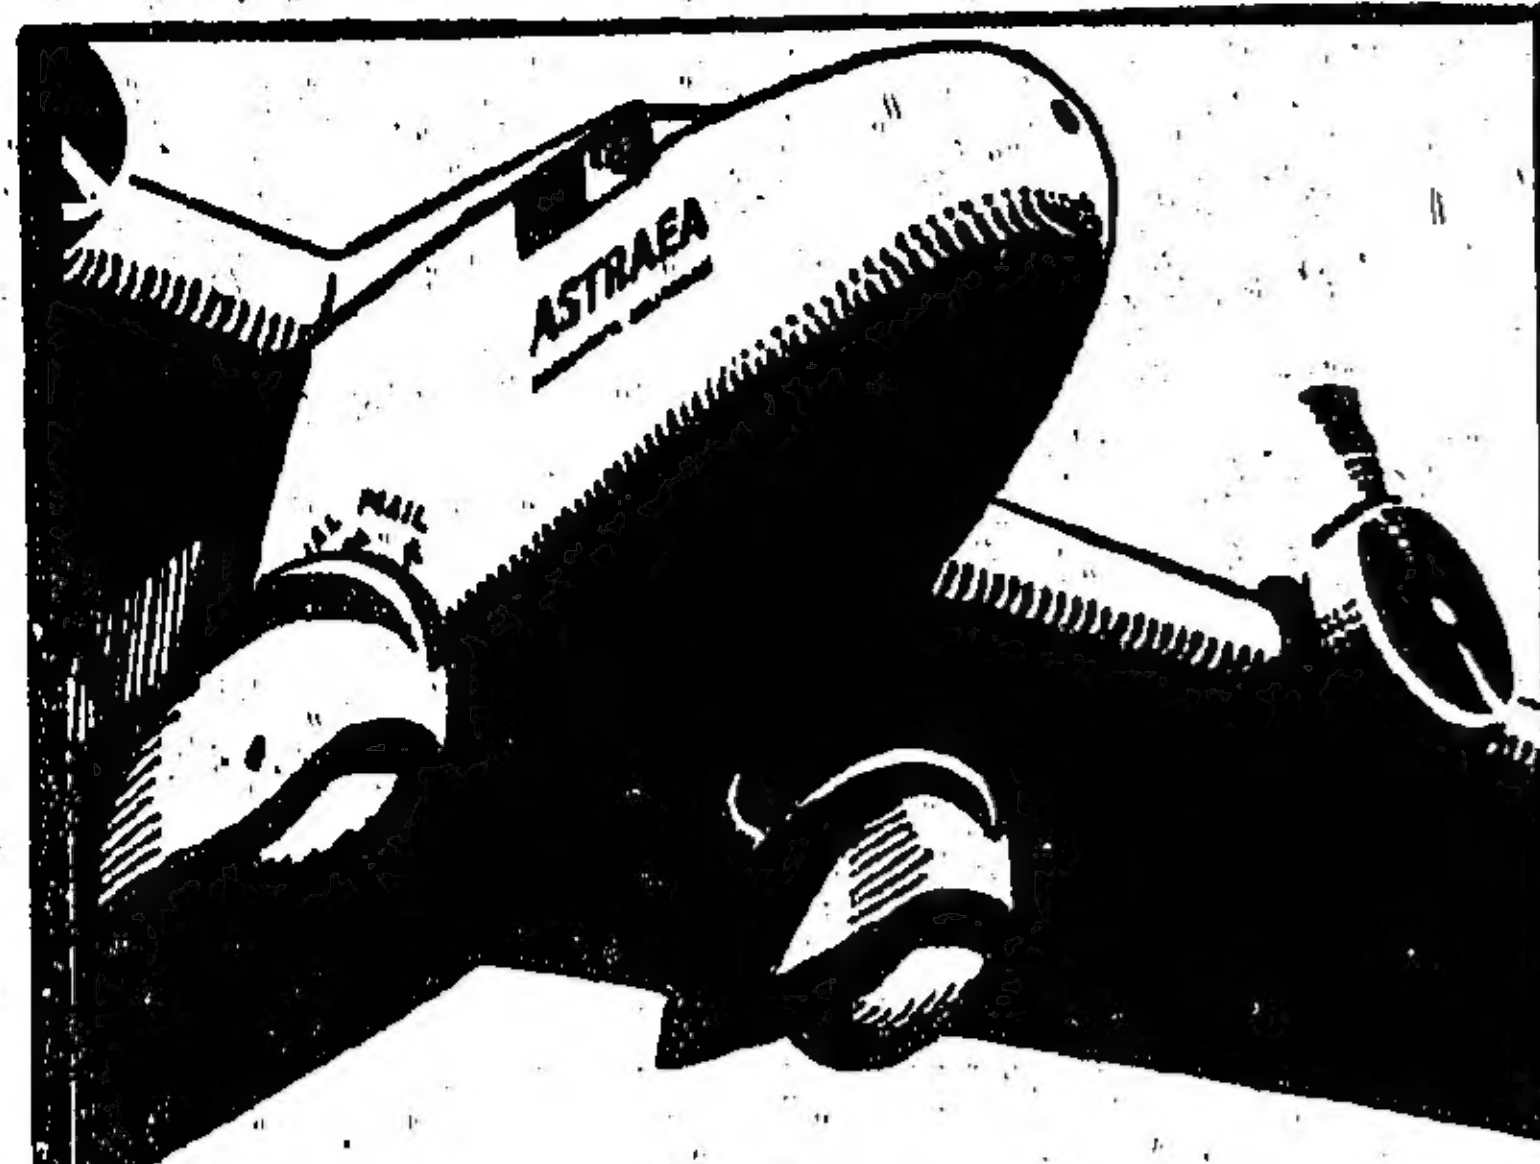

Its Action Explained—
Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the stomach it begins to soothe the sore, irritated, inflamed food. The contents of the stomach become more liquid and soothing; as a result the sensitive stomach lining is quickly "soothed" and "restored" to its normal state. The stomach will soon lose its tenderness and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:
"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
H. L. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:
"Bisurated" Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach, pain, and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."
H. L. — Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

GERMAN POSTAL INNOVATION

First Travelling
Post Office

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Sept. 7.
How the German postage service has solved certain entirely new technical problems created by the frequency of mass meetings in the public life of the present day was demonstrated yesterday, when what is claimed to be the first travelling post office was shown in operation as it will be used when the annual National Socialist Party congress meets this month at Nuremberg.

If successful, the "Post Office on wheels" will in future be an integral part of all great public gatherings held at places where an adequate postal service is not available.

The cardinal feature of this new convenience is a large 59 h.p.
Diesel motor-lorry, on the left side of which three postal windows are built in, with all the appliances ordinarily found in a post office.
In the same side of the van a large canvas tent is attached, which rolls up when the car is out of commission, but when in use forms a lofty, cool, bright and airy
"room" 12 feet by 15 feet in size.

Inside the tent are collapsible writing tables, seats and six separate telephone cells for local and long-distance calls. The cell is lighted naturally, through the cellophane windows and roof, but electric light is also available at night.

ALL SERVICES

All the services rendered by modernised post offices in the ordinary way are available here, including automatic stamp sellers, letter boxes and telephones, the acceptance of registered letters and telegrams, the issue of money orders, postal cheques and parcel post.

The whole installation can be ready for the public in three to four hours after arrival at a spot, this time being chiefly required to make electrical connections with the power mains to obtain current for the telephones and light.

When wanted elsewhere the connecting cables are unscrewed, the collapsible cells, and seats are packed up, and the canvas tent rolled together and strapped in place.

The staff consists of a chauffeur and a mechanic, both of whom sleep in the car. Three postal officials to serve the public are supplied from the nearest office. The whole equipment moves at a rate of 46 miles an hour.

If it proves a success in practice, cars of this pattern will be made available for use all over the Reich.

THE SICCAWEI OBSERVATORY

Account Of Storms
Over Shanghai

(Special Air Mail Service)

Shanghai, Sept. 3.
Using delicate recording apparatus presented to them in 1931 by the National Meteorological Office of Paris, the Jesuit Fathers at Sic-cawei have conducted a study of "atmospherics" continuously since January 1, 1932, and have now issued an interesting illustrated treatise on the work under the title, "Notes de Météorologie Physique—Fascicule
IV. Etude des Atmosphériques, 1932—1935". The book comes from the pen of the Rev. Pierre Lejay, S.J., Director of Siccawei Observatory, and was printed at Tousseve, near Siccawei.

The learned language of the treatise and the imposing display of maps and charts should not discourage reading by persons familiar with French, as the subject is one of general interest in Shanghai, particularly at this season when typhoons and other storms are regular visitors to the China Coast.
The clear and forceful language of the book admirably suits the subject matter.

Two specific storms, both of which occurred in the spring of 1933, are given separate treatment by Father Lejay as illustrations of the general thesis of the study.
The first storm, covering the period from March 21 to March 27, 1933, was caused by a depression over the East Sea and brought rain to a large region along the China Coast. On the evening of March 25 a depression appeared over the basin of the Yangtze River, the barometer having fallen steadily since morning. The low-pressure area started to move in an easterly direction and passed to the south of Shanghai late during the evening. On the 25th the apparatus registered a remarkable re-crudescence of atmospheric particles ("parasites").

ANOTHER STORM

On the sixth of April the same year, the centre of a meteorological area of depression was over central China, traveling east-north-eastwards. It passed over the Shanghai district the same evening. The following morning high-pressure areas over Siberia began to extend into northern China as the centre of high-pressure moved on. During the night of the sixth and seventh the particles were recorded in almost every direction, having the same, very moderate intensity. Barely did the apparatus indicate a maximum to the northwest at 9 p.m., to the southwest at 4 o'clock the following morning. At 6 a.m. on the 8th the low-pressure area, covered Japan and the high-pressure area following.
The anticyclone was travelling southwards, causing a fresh monsoon to blow in Shanghai and environs. The recordings revealed a recrudescence of "atmospherics" in a zone extending to a line corresponding to the southern limit of the monsoon. On April 9 the areas of high-pressure had definitely moved southwards and it was the southern region which provided the small number of atmospherics still being recorded. Finally, on April 10, high-pressure areas were over the local region and the atmospherics had virtually disappeared.

The scientists plan to observe many similar phenomena before drawing definite conclusions.

YOUTHS DETAINED AT SUCHOW

Peking, Sept. 7.
Two youths, John Francis
(American) and H. D. Martin (British), have telegraphed to Peiping stating that they are detained at Suchow, Kansu Province, and requesting diplomatic help.

Three months ago Francis and Martin left Kueihua with a solitary camel, heading for Edgingol, after which they went southwards into Kansu. At Suchow their passports were detained and they are unable to leave without them.

It is understood that they are under no physical restraint, but cannot leave the city.

THE OPIUM EVIL

China's Progress
Praised

Geneva, Sept. 5.

The League Council has adopted the report of the Opium Committee, expressing gratification at the progress made by the complete suppression of poppy-growing in Fukien, the closing of many opium divans in Szechuen, the decreased production in Tamen and the curing of over 81,000 drug addicts and opium smokers in a single year.

These cures were the result of the Chinese Government opening special hospitals and developing an extensive educational movement.

The report added that the encouraging results must not lead to under-estimation of the magnitude of the task remaining and the seriousness of the difficulties.

The Council paid a tribute to the Chinese Government and expressed the hope that it would finally rid China of the drug evil.

It drew attention to the necessity of tightening up regulations with regard to foreign concessions, and especially urged heavier prison sentences for drug traffickers.—

A "LIFE RAY"

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 21.
A Danish inventor named Ravn has been invited to visit this country to demonstrate the use of an electrical ray which he asserts has the power to disable aircraft at a distance. He makes "remarkable" claims for his device. Given a sufficiently high electrical potential his ray will, he says, "explode" an aeroplane fifty mile off. A civilisation that has taken to hewing colossal bombproof shelters out of the earth and training children in the use of gas-masks would be content with less than that. Let Mr. Ravn merely provide us with a means of gently paralysing bombing planes before they reach centres of habitation so that they are forced to land, and the world will breathe a great deal more freely. But rumours of such deliverance arise, alas! only to be discredited. Some little stir was caused last May by a tale that Senator Marconi had brought a string of motor-cars to a standstill on the road between Rome and Ostia by using a short-wave ray to disorganise their magnetos, and had held them spell-bound as long as he pleased; but, whatever the truth of the story, no practical consequences emerged from it.

ELECTRICAL POWER

Electrical power can be uncannily used to guide the movements of a plane in which no pilot sits, and the nightmare is even taking shape of air attacks controlled from a distance and without risk to the man-power of the attacking force. But for comparable wizardry directed to defence a nervous world still looks eagerly. There seems no reason why it should not be found. Science, blind to moral issues, has happened in latter years to tip the balance with appalling weight against the weak and defenceless. It may equally well stumble to-morrow upon some "life ray" that would still the internal planes, tank, or armoured car. But would mankind rest under that happy dispensation? We should more likely at once seek to fit our instruments of destruction with Diesel compression-ignition engines which, lacking both magnetos and coil, could defy the defence and have civilisation at their mercy once more.

EXPANSION OF THE R. A. F. Ministry's Plans Completed

It may now be said that the Air Ministry's plans for securing both appropriate types and adequate quantities of aircraft, required for the equipment of the additional squadrons which are to be formed by the end of March, 1937, are virtually complete. The essential selections and decisions have been made. Details of orders may still have to be settled in some cases and the formal contracts to be placed, but the character of the squadrons which will come into existence during the next 18 months has already been determined.

The total number of aircraft needed will be well over 2,000, and will involve the placing of the biggest orders since the War. As the Secretary of State for Air (Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister) indicated in his speech of July 22, there will be several new types of aeroplanes in the new squadrons. Some of these are known to the public; some are likely to be removed from the secret list shortly; some must remain secret until they have completed their tests, but these should not be delayed much beyond the end of this year. It is believed that among the last-named class are aeroplanes which should greatly improve the performance of the heavy bomber category.

NEW SQUADRONS

Apart from the creation of new squadrons which will fly the most modern types of machine, there will also be a large replacement programme intended to remove from the home defence units several types which have given good service but are now obsolescent. The Secretary of State has already given a list of those types, which may be expected to disappear altogether from the Service during the expansion period. Among the heavy bombers the Virginias and Hindleys will be removed; the Siskind will vanish from the medium bomber class; the Horsley torpedo-bomber will be superseded; among general purpose types the Fairey III F, and the Wapiti will be removed, as also will the Bullfinch and the Southampton wing-boats.

A start has already been made with the replacements in all these classes. The replacing types give the first indication of the new material available for the additional squadrons. Two new types of heavy bomber are already coming into service. These are the Handley Page Heyford, which took part in the Air Exercises recently, and the Fairey Hendon, a big low-wing monoplane with two of the latest Rolls-Royce Kestrel engines. It carries a big load at fairly high speed, and has three enclosed gun turrets for its own defence.

TWIN ENGINED BOMBER

Another type of twin-engined bomber, which has not yet been seen in public, has lately been ordered, but this is classed as a medium bomber. This machine is also a low-wing monoplane with a retractable under-carriage and two Mercury (845 h.p.) engines set in the wing. It has been produced by the Bristol Company and represents an entirely new method of construction. Not only is it an all-metal aeroplane, but the wings have metal skin coverings which carry part of the loads. The fuselage is also built on a new monocoque system which saves weight and may withstand a much greater amount of damage, from bullets for example, without collapsing. This aeroplane is believed to have very high performance and to set an entirely new standard in bombers. A similar tendency towards high performance is found in the latest machine of the general-purpose class, the Avro low-wing monoplane, adapted from a civil type which had a top speed of 195 miles an hour.

The light bomber category will continue to include a fairly large number of Harbys and Gordons, but the latest addition to this class is an improvement on the Harby. This is known as the Hawker Hind. Structurally it is similar to the Harby, but it embodies certain aerodynamic improvements and is fitted with the latest type of Rolls-Royce engine. The result of the improvements is to give it very much better performance, greater carrying capacity, and a bigger endurance. Among the new medium bombers is a low-wing monoplane produced by the Vickers firm and fitted with a Bristol Pegasus (720 h.p.) engine. This machine has a retractable under-carriage and a big compartment between the pilot's cockpit, which is placed well forward, and the rear gunner's cockpit. In this case the wing is provided with flaps on the trailing edge to steepen the glide and reduce the landing speed.

NEW FIGHTERS

The new fighters which are to be obtained in the first place will come from the Gloster works. One squadron is already equipped with Gauntlets and an additional order for this type has been placed. The same firm is required also to produce a number of the later type of fighter fitted with four machine-guns. Until recently this has been described as the Gloster F7/30, but it is now officially named the Gladiator. It is notably faster than the Gauntlet and carries a bigger load. A hint has already been given by Sir Philip Sassoon in the House of Commons that by the end of this year fighters of a speed approaching 300 miles an hour should be flying, but particulars of such types may not yet be disclosed. The Demon two-seater fighter is on order in some quantity, especially for use by the Auxiliary squadrons.

Flying-boat replacements have been begun. The two newest types are the Vickers Stranraer, which uses two Pegasus engines, and the Saunders-Roe London, which has similar power units. Both boats represent a large improvement in performance and range as compared with earlier types. In addition to the aeroplanes mentioned, there are certain types to which no reference can at present be made.

GOVERNMENT'S PLANS

An amplification of the recent statement of the First Lord of the Admiralty that the Government was seeking a new naval agreement by way of programmes instead of ratios was made by the Marquess of Londonderry, the Leader of the House, in the House of Lords to-day.

Replying to Viscount Cecil, who had asked for explanation of the matter, Lord Londonderry said that there was no change in policy. We would gladly seem continuance of the ratio system of the Washington Treaty. But if we were to avoid a race in naval armaments after the end of the Treaties in 1936, account must be taken of the desires and susceptibilities of nations holding other views.

Our purpose now was to evolve, in consultation with other Powers, a system of limitation which, while avoiding expression in contractual form of relationships of naval strength, would offer guarantees against resumption of unrestricted and competitive building. It was also considered of the utmost importance to reach agreement for qualitative as well as quantitative limitation.

Lord Cecil, while pronouncing that it would not be in the public interest to debate the matter, gave warning that he must not be supposed to be satisfied.

PETROL PRICE

Reduction In Pacific Coast

San Francisco, Sept. 8.
The early restoration of California's crude oil prices, following last week's price cut, is now held unlikely as the independent producers have refused to agree to shut down their wells, temporarily, on the theory that it would cut off the supply of the independent refiners.

The immediate result is a two-cent reduction in the price of petrol on the Pacific coast.—Reuter.

Your Weakness may be a Deficiency Disease

A few typical symptoms of mineral deficiency are:

General Weakness
Tooth Decay
Nervous Irritability
Skin Troubles
Anæmia
Low Resistance
to Colds & Infections
Feminine Complaints

Lack of certain minerals in the body, physicians have discovered, is responsible for many complaints—often of a totally differing character. Such diverse troubles as tooth-decay, general weakness, dizziness, nerve pain, may have their root in one and the same cause: mineral deficiency. Drugs only relieve the symptoms and make the condition worse in the end.

With Kalzana, however, you can relieve the actual cause of your complaint, because Kalzana makes good the lack of minerals in your body. Kalzana contains the vital elements needed by your system; combined in such a way that they are readily taken up by the body and quickly reach the weakened organs.

Kalzana, moreover, has a strengthening influence on the whole body. It soothes the nerves and gives new health and increased power of resistance. Lack of minerals is a very common cause of ill-health, but a course of Kalzana will soon put you right again.

Give Kalzana to the children also, especially during the time of teething and rapid growth when there is an increased demand for minerals in the child. Kalzana turns pale, listless children into buoyantly healthy youngsters.

Remember, Kalzana is not a drug but a mineral food and must do you good. Start a course to-day.

The opinion of leading Medical Papers:

"The Tung-Chi Medical Paper" writes:

"The regular administration of Kalzana in sufficient doses maintains normal blood alkalinity, replaces excessive loss of calcium from the tissues, markedly reduces many of the distressing symptoms of disease and definitely assists the body to overcome the infection."

The Medical Paper, "The Practitioner," writes:

"Kalzana acts efficiently in promoting the growth of strong bones and healthy teeth—in reducing blood pressure and stimulating the glands and blood-forming organs. Kalzana is indicated in the diet of expectant and nursing mothers, and of growing children, and in all conditions where a mineral food is required."

"OUR DAILY BREAD"

"Our Daily Bread," King Vidor's new production, which United Artists brings to the King's Theatre on Tuesday, is the thrilling romance of a young city couple who return to the land to begin life all over again. It was written by Vidor, who produced it, independently.

"I got the idea more than a year ago," said Vidor, "from a magazine article called 'The Agricultural Army.' While in no sense a farm story, as that term is generally understood, most of the action takes place against an agricultural background.

"Instead of accentuating established rural life, however, it presents the experiences of a group of people on an abandoned farm, where they have gathered together from all walks of city life."

The lovers are played by Karen Morley and Tom Keene, with Barbara Pepper cast as the "blonde menace" who invades their Eden and threatens the loyal young wife's happiness.

Forty players are listed in the cast and there are several hundred players in the background, who contribute to the emotional element of mass action.

OUR LITTLE GIRL

Fox Film needed a circus a real circus for certain sequences in Shirley Temple's new starring picture, "Our Little Girl," now scoring a triumph at the King's Theatre.

The circus wouldn't come to town no, on its regular schedule. So Hollywood, proverbially prodigal, hired a whole circus snapped to the Fox lot.

As a result you need not wait for the circus to come to town. It's in town, in its picture. Acrobats, clowns, stunt riders, wild animals, freaks, and kindred circus personal arrived for this picture, and erected one of the largest tents ever used in the circus world. Everything moved exactly as though a public performance were scheduled for the morning. Elephants were watered, wild animals fed, and the big tent was stabled. The circus stayed in Hollywood till Director John Robertson was finished with the sequences.

THREE RECORDS BROKEN IN TEST

Hammond Eclipses Hobbs

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 21. South Africa, knocked the final remnants of stuffing out of the fifth Test match at the Oval yesterday. They carried their score to 476, and not only made certain of a draw, but gave themselves an outside chance of victory.

That chance has faded now, thanks largely to a magnificent innings of 119 not out by Leyland. England have made 313 for four wickets, and so are 163 runs behind.

The match, therefore, is virtually over, though we may yet see some fine batting, and already we have some great individual feats to record.

First comes the record ninth wicket partnership for South Africa—137 runs made in 14 hours yesterday morning by Dalton and Langton. Both these batsmen played extremely well, and those ironically inclined may find amusement in the fact that Langton's 73 was by far his highest score in England.

South Africa did not monopolize the records, though, for Hammond and Leyland's fourth-wicket partnership of 151 beat England's previous best of 122 against South Africa, made by Hayward and J. L. Hill at Johannesburg in 1895-6. And before we have finished with records, let us note that when Hammond had scored 52 he passed Hobbs' total of 1,562 runs against South Africa in Test matches.

Hammond played well, and delighted the huge crowd with some of his most regal strokes, but Leyland once more was the outstanding England batsman. What a consistent Test match player Leyland is! Whenever runs are needed, and however serious the crisis, there Leyland stands, four-square and unmoved by circumstances.

Leyland made his 100 in just over two hours, and his partnership of 151 with Hammond took only 14 hours. Fast scoring, and the spectators had plenty to applaud, despite the fact that all hope of an England victory has been beaten out of sight.

This state of runs, incidentally, is a commentary upon a wicket so over-prepared that it might well break any bowler's heart. It is high time groundsmen were forced to leave some natural life in the turf. These slab-like modern wickets make a mockery of the game.

It was brilliantly fine when Bower opened the England attack from the Pavilion end. Viljoen, 80 not out, played a thoughtful maiden over, and then Read, coming on to bowl, was given a special round of applause. He soon justified this, for in his second over he made a ball lift sharply, and it went off the splice of Viljoen's bat into Clay's hands at short leg.

The score was 312, and seven wickets were down, but this did not intimidate Dalton, who hit Read for two powerful 4's in succession, and soon reached his 50.

Dalton is always cheerfully aggressive, and he needs a little luck early in his innings. Yesterday the luck was with him and his occasional streaky strokes were backed-up by plenty of solid driving and hooking. Robins, who came on at 3.30, completely beat him three times in one over, but he was undismayed, even when Vincent at 3.33, leaping out to hit Robins, was clean bowled.

At 3.31 Clay nearly caught Dalton off his own bowling—an extremely difficult chance—but the slaughter of the English attack was unchecked. Nichols, in the meanwhile, was racing round the boundary, and at 3.39 he was put on to bowl for the first time, rather as an afterthought, it seemed.

Dalton and Langton were scoring run for run; at 4.14 Langton reached his 50, and at 4.31 Dalton flicked one over the slip's head for his 100, and a well deserved hundred it was.

The bowling was treated with contempt, and not until the partnership had put on 137 in 70 minutes did Dalton mislead Read, and give Robins a high, spinning catch at cover.

By that time the damage, from England's point of view, was very definitely done, and when the South African innings closed for 74 at one o'clock England were no longer thinking of saving the rubber, but of the possibility of defeat.

A remote possibility on that wicket, certainly, and Mitchell and Bakewell began the England innings by hunting for runs like terriers. The score boards clicked; the batsmen scampered for singles; by the luncheon interval the total was 20.

Langton was bowling beautifully from the Pavilion end, though, and at 3.46 Bakewell scraped back to the leg-break, and was caught at the wicket. Wyatt came in, doubtless with the laudable intention of setting the pace, and off his first ball from Langton he was dropped at first slip.

A lucky escape, but Wyatt was looking for runs, and by some admirable driving and dainty lacy cutting he made 37 before he played back to Vincent and flicked a catch to Cameron. 98-2-37, the time 3.23, and at the same total Crisp came on at the Vauxhall end, and yanked Mitchell with his first ball.

Mitchell had played well—but it was left to Hammond and Leyland to restore England's confidence. Neither batsman looked any too happy at first, and Hammond in particular found it difficult to find Crisp, who was bowling really fast.

Leyland hit Vincent for a six straight into the Pavilion, a noble blow; and the only flaw in this reassuring partnership came at 1.77, when Hammond was very nearly run out.

CAMERON'S FINE WORK

Between them these two put on 151 runs in 14 hours, and then Hammond leant forward to a ball from Vincent, which turned away, and Cameron, a great wicket-keeper, whipped off the balls.

A bad end for Hammond, but Leyland went on majestically, chopping the short ball towards third man, driving hard and often past mid off or over the bowler's head. Ames kept him company, and at six o'clock a roar from the crowd greeted Leyland's century. Leyland raised his cap and stood motionless, undemonstrative, waiting to resume his assault on the South African bowling.

Gradually Ames opened out, and when stumps were drawn England were showing that if the match is drawn, at least it should be drawn with honours even.

THE PROBLEM OF LEISURE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 21.

The New Education Fellowship, now meeting at St Andrews, is discussing what is admitted on all hands to be one of the most perplexing of modern problems. Scarcely one among us but thinks in terms of work, leisure, or free time, does but fill in the interstices. Yet the times are changing. Unemployment is not the sole reason for change. Even more potent is the mechanisation of industry as the result of which the creative powers of thousands are no longer exercised, and thinkers are at their wit's end to devise theories capable of translation into such practice as will meet the needs of those ordinary folk who, without special aptitudes in any direction, grope for something which will satisfy them in that increasingly great amount of spare time with which they find themselves burdened. It may seem strange to regard free time as burdensome. It ought not to be other than a joy. Yet it is a recognised fact that men in the mass fear extended leisure, for in it they discover the emptiness of themselves, and to hide their discomfort, seek distractions so that the void may be filled. Frequently, in respect of the kind of distraction they seek, they are held up to execration and are, therefore, only too glad to get back to work.

THE INITIAL STAGES

At the present time, when the problem is in its initial stages, its fundamentals are apt to be glossed over. The man of sheltered life who has, from his early days, found refuge in books, and to whom music, art, and literature are the salt of his daily existence, cannot appreciate the point of view of the active man whose restlessness, when leisure comes his way, is to him an irritant and a perplexity. Means of escape are found in the passive pleasures of the cinema, for example, but essentially such a man's temperament is baffled in its expression and a deal of human misery is caused. The first requisite is to understand and allow for the vast implications of the differences in human character and mental make-up. We cannot divide mankind into the active and the reflective. Such a classification is altogether too simple, and it is, perhaps, unfortunate that the problem of leisure is almost always discussed by those who are essentially persons of a reflective habit. Great work has been done by Dr Albert Mansbridge and his successors in the Workers' Educational Association movement. But there is not a tendency to think far too much in terms of lectures and tutorial classes and of education which is speculative in character, philosophic or economic in content, and academic in its outlook and manner of handling? If the clubs started by the organisations which have sought to help the unemployed have shown that there are large numbers of men and women who are happy in doing something but very unhappy in thinking about things. Recent experience in these clubs and in the unemployment centres for juveniles has revealed the fact that if this problem of the fitting use of leisure is to be tackled at all seriously a great deal of what is called the "dead-hand" in education must be removed.

THE GRADUAL CHANGES

The gradual changes in outlook needed for the proper adjustment of the balance between work and leisure must emanate from the

The "Seven Pillars Of Wisdom"

Seven Pillars of Wisdom. By T. E. Lawrence. London: Jonathan Cape. Pp. 689. 30s. net. Published to-day.

Lawrence once talked to me about the kind of subscriber he wanted for the limited edition of the "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," writes a correspondent in a London daily. "I have put Sir—down for it; he will neither read nor sell it; to that extent it will be as if published posthumously." "But then why not leave it for posthumous publication?" I asked. No, he had to see it through the press himself, to choose the paper, the type, the binding, and the illustrations. The dress provided for books was to him a subject of intense, absorbing interest, and so lavishly was he over the "Seven Pillars" that the returns of its thirty guinea edition did not repay the cost of production. To cover the rest he had to publish "The Revolt in the Desert," which he described to me as the "Boy Scout edition" compared to the other it was a book of trivial adventure.

BEAUTY OF STYLE

But how to write about the "Seven Pillars of Wisdom"? One could discuss chapters of history or strategy, the beauty of the style, the narrative and its sustained interest, the flashes of quite humour or of whimsical wisdom, and the descriptions so vivid or plastic. But none of this is of its core; a mind and life break through the pages of the book with a stark directness such as few writers would dare, or be able, to achieve. Here was a human being of rare texture, with a spirit, a will, and an understanding which were almost uncanny; but in chains, invisible chains, for which he sought an equivalent in actual life, yearning at the same time for a white peace and endless freedom. He was fastidious, highly educated, sophisticated; but pain, the fear and love—in short, the fascination of pain—made him into an ascetic. Under conditions which answered schools. Violent changes there cannot happen in a day. If education could be conducted regardless of cost it would fairly speedily achieve an end at which the capacity and temperament of the individual child would be made the subject of study with results that would have a direct bearing on his conduct when he grew to man's estate and had to decide how he would utilise the leisure to which, under modern conditions, he would fall heir. But education must cut its cloth according to its spend. Moreover, its shackles must be gradually unloosed. As long as academic education dominates the upper reaches of the schools, so long will there be a continuance of that sense of inferiority that, even now, whatever may be said to the contrary, is the great deterrent to success in what, in Scotland, are known as Advanced Divisions. Once that feeling is removed from the minds of teachers and their pupils, an immense advance in ideas will be made and a wider conception of education gained.

THE MEN OF THE DESERT

In the desert he found men "geographically beyond temptation," on whom there was "the mark of nomadism, that most deep and biting social discipline," who "found luxury in abnegation, renunciation, self-restraint," "made nakedness of the mind as sensuous as nakedness of the body," and saved their souls in a hard selfishness—"dry souls ready to be set on fire."

Lawrence once said to me about the Semites: "To the end of the world will they go for loot, but if an idea crosses their path, they forget the loot and follow the idea." He went to them carrying an idea—I drew these tidbits of men into my hands and wrote my will across the sky in stars.

This is the only poem which he is known to have written; and here is his description of the men:

Their mind was strange and dark, full of d-pressions and exaltations, lacking in rule, but with more of ardour and more fertile in belief than any other in the world. . . . They were as unstable as water, and, like water, would perhaps finally prevail. Since the dawn of life in successive waves they had been dashing themselves against the coasts of flesh. . . . One such wave (and not the least) I raised and rolled before the breath of an idea till it reached its crest and toppled over and fell at Damascus.

SELF-EXPRESSION

Everything that mattered in him was of the spirit and had to retranslate itself into thought or art. In the "Seven Pillars" he found self-expression and created a deathless thing. After that there was nothing but a lingering life and grey suffering, and his only escape into freedom was speed, deadly speed.

One Consolation

"I'm leaving this poverty-stricken painting business," declared Dauber, the artist, "and going into a laundry concern." "That's a step in the right direction," said his friend. "Do you think so?" "Decidedly! You will be sure of seeing your work hung."

NO. MORE LADIES

A brilliant picturization of a famous stage play came to the Queen's Theatre last Friday when "No More Ladies" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new production co-starring Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery, opened to an enthusiastic audience. Produced by Irving Thalberg, the picture is brilliantly mounted and expensively framed.

With Joan Crawford cast as a beautiful young "modern" and Montgomery as a charming Lothario, the picture is set against lavish New York and Westchester County backgrounds. Closely following the play in theme, it is a penetrating study, told with irresistible humour, of the problems of a 1935 wife who suspects her husband of unfaithfulness.

Along with the stars, sagaciously cast, is the tremendous array of talent implicit in such featured players as Franchot Tone, Charlie Ruggles, Edna May Oliver, Gail Patrick and Reginald Denny. "No More Ladies" is definitely one of the best pictures of the year.

CALM YOURSELF

"Calm Yourself" is the title of the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture co-starring Robert Young and Madge Evans, which opens at the "Queen's Theatre" to-morrow. "Calm Yourself," in the photograph, is the advertising slogan of the young man who goes into the "confidential service" business with momentous results. Betty Furness, Nat Pendleton, Ralph Morgan and others are also featured. George Seitz directed.

Two Hearts In Waltz Time

Audiences at the Alhambra Theatre were treated to excellent entertainment yesterday, when the initial screening of "Two Hearts In Waltz Time" was the feature attraction.

This Gaumont British production is from the story by Walter Reisch and Frank Schulz, and is a sparkling musical romance, featuring Carl Brisson and beautiful Frances Day. The story opens with Carl Hoffmann (Carl Brisson), a composer of a new operetta, "Two Hearts In Waltz Time," who finds himself in love for the first time in his life, with Helene Barry (Frances Day), who believes him to be a fickle and Carl, in despair, refuses to compose the big number for the operetta.

Later Carl finds that the leading lady in his operetta is none other than Helene, but as she still refuses to take him seriously, he forsakes the theatre for his country residence. The waltz number is still unwritten so Helene determines to save the situation and goes to Carl's home. Finding that he has invited a number of girls friends to dinner, she phones them cancelling the engagement. Carl is happy once again to find that she is really in love with him, so he composes the all-important waltz.

Misunderstanding between the two lovers almost leads to the downfall of their happiness, but the mutual explanation that follows brings them together again as they dance to the lifting waltz tune that will ring in ears long after you have left the theatre. C.J.A.

BANKRUPTCY COURT

Several Cases
Heard

A receiving order against Fouja Singh which was made by Katar Singh represented by Mr. Zimmerman before Sir Atholl MacGregor, the Chief Justice at the Supreme Court on Saturday was dismissed.

The application was opposed by the Official Receiver Mr. J. J. Hayden, and by Mr. M. A. da Silva, for the debtor.

In giving his reasons for making the application the petitioning creditor stated that Fouja Singh was indebted to him for $890.

The debtor's liabilities amounted to $5,060, exclusive of the sum he owed the petitioning creditor. His assets were about $5,000 and these, witness agreed, consisted mostly of promissory notes and I.O.U.'s. After further questioning, however, witness amended his previous estimate and said that the value of these notes was $2,500.

THE JUDGMENT

In giving judgment His Lordship said: "This petition has been attacked on three grounds: firstly, by Mr. Silva, representing the debtor, on the ground that the bankruptcy notice is statutorily bad; secondly, the motive of the petitioning creditor in instituting the proceedings is improper; and thirdly, that the proceedings are opposed by the Official Receiver on the grounds of insufficiency of assets.

"The objection of the Official Receiver is one he is entitled to take, and, as he has taken it, I sustain it, and the result is that this petition is dismissed. In the circumstances I make no order as to costs."

APPLICATION ALLOWED

Another application was brought by the Tolyu Yoko firm against the Wing Tai Loong firm. Mr. R. H. Cole, of Messrs. Geo. K. Hall Brutton, appeared on behalf of the petitioning creditor and made the usual formal submissions. The receiving order was made by His Lordship.

ACTS FOR FATHER

Appointed by the Court to act on behalf of his father, Mr. A. A. Alves, the son Mr. J. M. M. Alves applied for a receiving order before the same court.

Mr. R. H. Cole, of Geo. K. Hall Brutton, appeared in court for Mr. Alves, who, when questioned, stated that he resided at No. 11 Macdonnell Road. His father formerly carried on a business in the Stock Exchange Building as a broker and a member of the H.K. Stock Exchange.

When he discovered his father was of unsound mind he looked into the financial affairs of the business and discovered that the liabilities amounted to $57,274.62 and the assets to $15,348.98. This did not include certain promissory notes nor the value of the seat on the Stock Exchange.

His Lordship ordered the receiving order to be made.

Chan Kwok, a 21 year old banished from Rangoon was on Saturday convicted by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy when charged with aiding and abetting a 13 year old boy, named Cheung Sing to steal a jade bangle from the arm of a Chinese baby in Shek Lung Street on Saturday at about 9 a.m. and with the unlawful possession of three jade bangles. He was sentenced, consecutively, to six months' hard labour on the first charge, and fined $250, in default three months' hard labour on the second.

The defendant strongly denied the charge and stated that the boy gave him the bangles to hold, but after evidence had been given by the baby's mother, the boy, and the district watchman who effected the arrest, defendant was convicted and sentenced.

IN THE CAUSE OF CHARITY

The Hon. Mr. Braga Praises Noble Work

The Chinese Sisters of the Precious Blood held their Annual Bazaar on Saturday and yesterday at the Convent at Shamshuipo when many visitors availed themselves of the opportunity of killing two birds with one stone, namely to get good value for their money and at the same time to help a very deserving cause.

The proceeds of the Bazaar are to be devoted to the upkeep of the Children's Hospital and Clinic and also to the proposed hospital which is to be built in the Convent Compound.

Among those present at the function, which was opened by the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, O.B.E., were Dr. and Mrs. Matthews, Miss Braga, Dr. Tang, Mr. Chan Wai Chan and others.

Mr. Chan the Hon. Secretary in asking Mr. Braga to declare the Bazaar open expressed thanks to the following donors to the Bazaar:

The Wah Yan College ($25), Mr. H. Dixon ($15), Sir Robert H. Tung, Sir Shou Son-chow, the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, Messrs. J. M. Alves, P. K. Kwok, H. K. Hung (each $10), Messrs. J. H. Taggart, Wong Tak-kwong, Kwok Siu-lau, Chau Cheuk-fan, and Dr. Ip Kam-wa (each $5), and Mr. Kok Kon-sang ($2), the British-American Tobacco Company for the cigarettes, the Nestle and Anglo-Swiss Company for the chocolates, and Mr. Chan Sau-ting for the tea and refreshments.

In his speech Mr. Chan also mentioned the self-sacrifice of the Sisters by giving up their upstairs quarters to provide an additional ward for the increasing baby patients, and the valuable assistance of Miss Tain, Mrs. Perry, Miss Leong, Miss Chan Yuk-hing and Mrs. Yip, which was part of the contribution of the Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children to the work of the Convent.

THE HON. MR. BRAGA

Declaring the Bazaar open, the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga said:—

"Mr. association with the branches of the institution of the Canossian Sisters of Charity is a life-long one. My presence this afternoon to declare the Bazaar open is more than a mere privilege. It is part of a duty which I cheerfully perform in pursuance of a contact which I have never lost since my childhood days.

"Ever pre-empt in the service of the universal cause of charity, the Hong Kong newspapers have devoted a lot of space to the interests of the hospital conducted under the auspices of the Chinese Sisters of the Precious Blood. It was barely a fortnight ago when, I remember, a leading article invited attention to the invaluable services which the Sisters of this Convent, as an institution are rendering to the Colony in general and, in particular, to those poor children of the humblest amongst us who have recourse to shelter and medical aid and comfort from the doctors, nurses, attendants and Sisters of the Convent.

INCREASING WORK

"The figures given over the signature of your honorary physician are somewhat telling. Your work increases beyond any conception. The figures are alarming enough for us to realise that the number of in-patients increased this year by as many as 30 per cent. over that of last year and the number of deaths is still appalling. No less than three-fourths of the in-patients brought to you for hospital care have died through a number of causes, principal among which are ignorance and poverty among those seeking urgent assistance.

"The number of people who attended as out-patients is something like 3,000. A year ago there were only about 1,800. At the present rate of increase one dreads to contemplate what would have been the fate of the poor victims of disease, poor feeding, and, in some cases also, unfortunately, benighted superstition.

GROWING DISTRICTS

"All this is taking place in the crowded area of the growing—presently partially un-reared—industrial districts on the mainland and it behoves the Colony to extend every assistance to the self-denyng Sisters, who, in their heroic efforts to save lives and to relieve the suffering of the little children, are handicapped by a shortage of means to do the charitable work which they have taken upon themselves to perform in the interests of humanity at large.

"It is true that the Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children has come to your aid at a time when assistance was badly needed. The Society, however, has urgent and insistent calls on its funds. It is problematical to what extent you may rely further on the help of this most useful Society. The claims on the Society, as I have said, are many and varied. Its income, on the other hand, from a variety of causes is a diminishing one.

APPEAL FOR HELP

"All the same it is a recognised fact that the institution of the Chinese Sisters of the Precious Blood calls for material assistance from the public and the Government, from whose shoulders the work, efficient management and partial expense are removed by means also of the voluntary services of a few of our public-spirited citizens. I trust that those in authority will lend a willing ear when it comes to considering to what extent an institution such as this may confidently rely on the Government for help in the very imperative and urgent work of the special kind you undertake.

"Very soon, I am told, you will be embarking on an undertaking for the erection of a Children's Hospital and Clinic that will take the place of this very necessary but inadequate building. I wish you all success. Who amongst us will dare deny you a full measure of success? And I wish to thank your kind collaborators, principal among whom is Dr. H. D. Matthews, your chief honorary physician, the doctors, and those ladies and gentlemen who have given of their time and attention so liberally in the eloquent cause of the poor and the helpless.

CONSISTENT HELPER

"In mentioning the Sisters' benefactors, I am requested to state the name of Mr. Tse Yung Kwong. Mr. Tse's benevolence is beyond praise. Almost from the very start he has been a consistent supporter of the Sisters' work at Kowloon, and his last substantial donation towards the erection of the new hospital was one of $5,000. The Sisters regard this as a positive encouragement, from which they derive inspiration to prosecute the work which they find it incumbent on them to carry out exclusively in

ROUND THE COURTS

DEATH ENQUIRY

Death from natural causes was the verdict returned by the jury at the Central Magistracy on Saturday, when an enquiry was held into the circumstances attending the death of Chan Wah, (59) a remand prisoner, who died in the prison hospital early Saturday morning.

This verdict was reached following the evidence of Dr. J. E. Dovey who said that deceased was obviously wasting away when he saw him, through being a confirmed opium smoker. A post mortem examination confirmed the diagnosis of chronic opium poisoning and starvation. Bronchitis in the lungs proved to be the actual cause of death.

The following jury assisted the Coroner Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen: Messrs. L. A. Gutierrez, A. A. Mattos and J. V. Luz.

the interests and for the benefit of the Chinese poor.

"I appeal to those to whom this Bazaar is but a name to extend to you all the help they can see their way to give for this beneficent work, under the guidance of a kind Providence, for the relief of suffering, the prevention of disease, and the building up of the strength of the young who will become, as they must in the course of time, valuable units in the development of the industrial resources of this Colony and citizens whose usefulness Hong Kong may in future take pride in claiming as her own.

"Ladies and Gentlemen the stalls are loaded with a number of inviting but inexpensive articles. I plead with those sympathetic patrons who care to loosen their purse strings. The Bazaar is now open."

Chief Warder H. Barrett testified that deceased was remanded in prison by virtue of a Magistrate's warrant on August 28. He was immediately admitted into the Hospital and died there at 1.05 a.m. on Friday. He identified the body as that of Chan Wah in the presence of Dr. Dovey at 10.30 a.m. Dr. J. E. Dovey said that the deceased was admitted into the Victoria Gaol hospital by Dr. Shaw, who is at present ill. He first saw the deceased on Thursday last at 11 a.m. and again on Friday and it was obvious that he would not last much longer. He died the following morning.

When charged on August 28, with returning from banishment the deceased pleaded that he had returned because he was ill, and he was therefore remanded for medical examination.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

No. 95 Lockhart Road, ground floor, was the scene of an attempted armed robbery early yesterday morning. While the inmates were about to start their daily work, the master of the house, Chu Chiu Fan, a retired merchant, who was on his way to the ground floor noticed a stranger slowly creeping up the stairs. He lost no time in making good use of his police whistle which had the effect of making the intruder doing a quick disappearing trick. The man left by the back door and was seen to be joined by another two men who had been waiting for him there for some time. After a hue and cry was raised the police arrived on the scene and on inspection two pieces of scissors blades were found in the back yard.

One of the female inmates noticed that one of the two waiting men had an instrument which very closely resembled a revolver. Nothing was stolen and up to a late hour no arrests had been made.

SINCERE'S

Extensive Changes

In order to cope with modern demands and to afford every convenience to their patrons, the management of the Sincere Co., Ltd., are undertaking alterations and renovations of their premises on a large scale.

Seen by a representative of the "Daily Press" an official of the company stated that the sum of $300,000 was involved in order to bring the premises up to date. Our representative was told that the two lifts, one at each end of the building will be brought to the middle of the building with an additional lift to be installed, thus providing a more efficient lift service.

The space vacated by the two lifts will be utilised for other departments while at the Connaught Road Central end a warehouse has also been vacated to make room for further expansion.

Eight new steel shutters have also been installed on the ground floor. These shutters are used to cut off the shops from the entrance to the lifts after closing hours. New and modern show cases are being installed while water sprinklers have also been installed from the ground floor to the fourth.

Of the lifts two are already installed while the third will be completed in about six months' time. The cost of the lifts, which are Waygood Otis, amount to about $68,000.

As a result of these alterations many of the departments are to be shifted to other floors. For example, the Medical, Men's Wear and Hats Departments are to be situated on the ground floor the Fire and Marine Offices will be transferred to the fourth floor. The Piece Goods, Cotton and Haberdashery Departments will be transferred from the second to the first floor and the Toys from the ground to the first floor. Photographic, Dental and Optical Departments will be situated on the second instead of the first floor, and the Hair Dressing Saloon will henceforth be on the second floor.

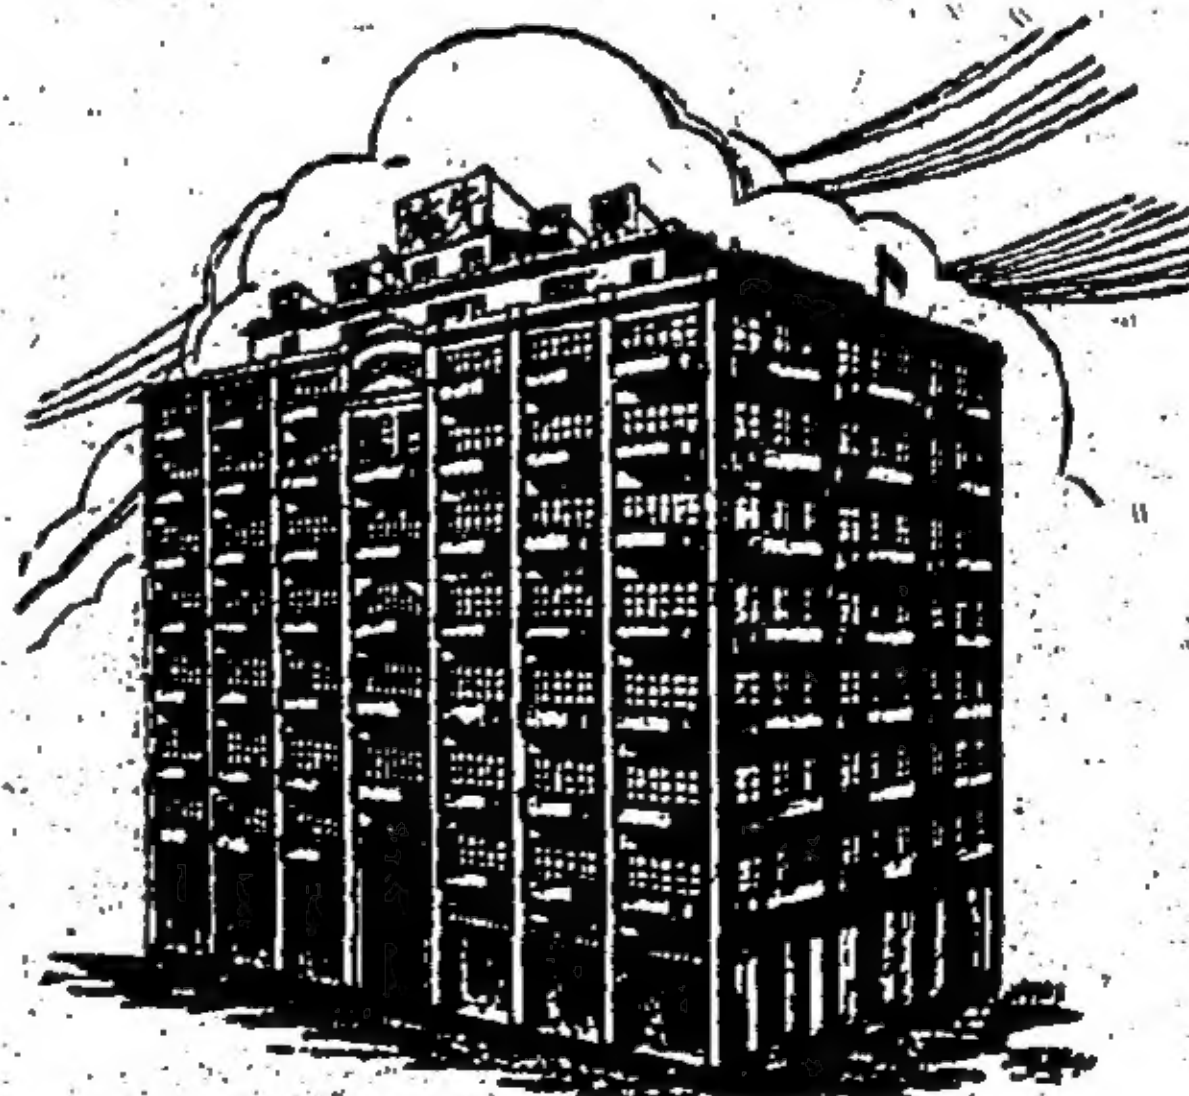

The alterations, removals and renovations will all be ready by the end of the year.

NEW VENTURE

The new building of the Macao branch of the Sincere Co., Ltd., was officially opened on Saturday by His Excellency Colonel Jose de Miranda, Governor of Macao, before a large gathering of friends and customers of this well-known local institution.

Situated at Rua da 5 d'Outubro, the building is one of the largest in Macao. It is a nine-storeyed structure and was designed by the well-known Macao architect, Mr. Pereira. Messrs. Lam Woe and Co. were the contractors.

OPTIUM SEIZURE

As a result of the seizure of 3,340 taels of prepared opium on board the s.s. Pleasantville by Revenue Officers on Friday, August 30, five men were charged with possession of the drug and were remanded until 230 p.m. on Wednesday by Mr. E. L. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Police Court on Saturday morning.

Mr. G. S. Hugh-Jones is appearing for the last two defendants.

The first three defendants were allowed bail of $2,500 each, while the last defendant was fixed for the last defendant.

Another Chinese, To Koi, who was separately charged with attempting to export prepared opium on board the same ship, was also remanded for a week on the application of Mr. E. L. Hamilton, Superintendent of the Export and Import Department. Bail of $5,000 was fixed.

MOTOR MISHAPS

Over The Week-end

Several motor accidents were reported to the police during the week-end which, the vehicle concerned in each case being more or less damaged though no casualties were reported.

On Saturday at about 1.25 p.m. Austin car No. 2607 driven by Kam Sau was involved in an accident with public rickshaw No. 520. It appears that both vehicles were driving along Hennessy Road in an easterly direction when near the junction of Tin Lok Lane the rickshaw coolie pulled his vehicle too far out to the road and the Austin car which was coming behind had to swerve suddenly in an attempt to avoid it. The left mudguard of the car, however, came into contact with the rickshaw and upset it. A married woman named Hung Sau Chu was with her infant child in the rickshaw at the time and both mother and child were thrown out of the rickshaw. The mother suffered a slight bruise on the back and as far as could be ascertained the child suffered no injuries, except from shock.

EUROPEAN'S CAR MISHAP

In an attempt to avoid several pedestrians while driving private car No. 3390 along Nathan Road near the Oriental Tobacco Factory on Saturday afternoon, Mr. G. Dudley was forced to apply his brakes suddenly, the result of which caused the car to skid, and crash into the verandah post. The offside of the car was extensively damaged, but fortunately no one was hurt.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN

NATHAN ROAD

A serious collision between private car No. 460 and taxi No. 716 occurred shortly before 11 o'clock on Saturday night, opposite the Hong Kong Telephone Company buildings in Nathan Road, but fortunately the drivers of both vehicles escaped without a scratch.

The entire left mud-guard and foot board of the taxi was ripped off, while the left head-light and front mudguard of the private car was severely damaged.

The police arrived soon after the collision occurred but it is not yet known which driver was at fault.

NEW HOTEL

The ground and first floors are used for the department store, while the next five floors comprise the Oriental Hotel. There are altogether 71 rooms, all of which are very spacious and with excellent ventilation. Many of them have private baths, and all are fitted with furniture of artistic design. A lobby is located on every floor, this being an outstanding feature of the edifice.

A Chinese restaurant occupies the seventh floor, and the delightful roof garden will no doubt soon become a popular resort for the public.

The Sincere Co. is to be congratulated on this new extension of its business, which already prospers. The head office is in Hong Kong, and there are also branches in Canton and Shanghai, to which the newly opened Macao branch has now been added.

NATURE AND SCIENCE

As nature had rather a long start over the scientist it was not surprising that a correspondent who recently compared these rival, wonder-workers found that thinking man has not yet caught up the blind, unreasoning Dame. Man can tell of many triumphs and point to certain substitutes better than Nature's originals, but his successes are largely on the outskirts, and though the laboratory has ingeniously improved on radium, it is still unable to supersede nature in her production of such everyday essentials as food and light. Lest the nature worker should feel complacent, the glow-worm lights his cold, super-efficient lamp at the very foot of the majestic pylon, and the brown old earth mocks with a good gigantic smile the idea of a tabloid menu. With an illimitable hand, science reaches through space to examine a planet; liberates hosts of machines to fly through the intermediate air; gathers in stray whispers from remote latitudes; sometimes gropes down the well to analyse "heavy water" and sometimes stretches tentatively into the stratosphere—but she cannot contrive a more nourishing kind of turnip. It is a peculiar fact that what lies nearest often escapes the grasp of science with the result that there is left many knots and tangles in the skein of daily existence as yet too intricate to unravel.

In the domain of medical science where nature is looked upon as an ally and not a rival, half the bodily processes continue un-surpassed secrets. When a bone is fractured or a finger torn, science describes with accuracy what damages ensue; but how and why do the repairs at once begin? What rallies the host of friendly corpuscles into the breach? Again, if infection sets in, what starts an inner factory working incessantly to turn out antibodies, on a scale so lavish that for a while the frame is immune from secondary attack? No doubt nature knows more about the glands than the scientist, who is to-day surmising how much these insignificant possessions have to do with moral conduct or personality—or, conversely, how mind and mood stimulate the glands. Leaving mankind, what has science taught us of our fellow creatures? The controversy about instinct and reason is still unresolved. The anatomy of a sabre-toothed tiger roaming the forests when England (science suspects) was a promontory of Europe can be modelled from a few bones; but what brings our domestic tiger, the cat, home across three continents? How does the house-martin make from tropical Africa to the same mud-saucer under the eaves? And looking at the colourful eggs in a summer nest, will the scientist undertake to reproduce those clear pigments?

There are numerous other examples which may be brought forward to suggest that the scientist will have to work for some time before he is as wise as old Dame Nature. Before all the posers are answered, the universe may die in chill coagulation, or run down like a watch or expand to bursting point. In the meantime, however, scientists will continue as the chief benefactors of the race—it is an old saying that through their labours an artisan now enjoys far longer life and far more creature comfort than an Elizabethan noble. Whatever the scientist tells us, we cannot controvert him, and whatever he bestows, we must perforce accept.

An armed robbery, attended with violence, occurred at Sheung Shui yesterday, the Chiu Cheung Grocery Store at Shek Wu Hui being victimised.

Hooting of motor horns and the cheers of a big crowd greeted Tommy Rose, winner of the King's Cup handicap air race when he crossed the winning line at 5.30 p.m., having made an average speed of 178.28 miles per hour over a triangular course of 50 miles which had to be covered seven times.

Flying Officer H. R. Edwards was second with an average speed of 157.84 miles per hour.

Twenty planes which survived the eliminating race competed, the fastest being the Duke of Kent's plane piloted by Captain E. W. Percival which made an average speed of 203.91 miles per hour, a record for the race, but he finished sixth.

There were no women competitors as the two who participated in the eliminating race failed to qualify.

COUNCIL OF ACADEMIA SINICA

Inaugural Ceremony Held

Nanking, Sept. 7.
The inaugural ceremony of the Council of Academia Sinica was held here 10 o'clock this morning under the chairman of Dr. Tsai Yuan Pei, who arrived here from Tientsin early this morning.

About 35 members of the Council were present, among whom were Mr. Wang Shih Chieh, Minister of Education, and Mr. Li Shu Hui, acting Director of Peiping Research Academy. Mr. Tai Chi Tao, President of Examination, and Mr. Wang Ching Wei, President of the Executive Yuan, attended the ceremony on behalf of the Central Party Headquarters and the National Government respectively.

Delivering a speech of admonition, Mr. Tai expressed that the Council should make further progress in academic activities in collaboration with other academic organs in the country.

Following Mr. Tai, President Wang also gave a speech, in which he pointed out that the promotion of academic studies is a key to cultural reconstruction and national consolidation. He asserted that the Central Government will do whatever it can to protect the academic organisations in the country.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "ONLOOKER.")

A. L. Sullivan, the popular Cricket Club personality, is probably Hong Kong's best known Lawn Tennis player, though in the last year or two he has been unlucky in local tournaments. For many years before coming to Hong Kong he played "interport" at this game for Shanghai and still is one of the best badminton players in the Far East.

It will be a matter of interest to some to know that "Sully" has deserted the Peak these days and finds greater freedom of self-expression in a comfortable Kowloon flat.

All the other members of the stronger sex showed signs of excessive heat he alone remained quite cool. A good tip for the menfolk.

THE GLOUCESTER

The Gloucester verandah seems to get more and more popular for dinner these dog days. It is pleasant to sit there in the cool, and look at Hong Kong by night. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson were dining there with friends the other day, and so were Mr. and Mrs. Fredericks and Mr. "Tam" Pearce. Of course we had to just have a look in at the dear old "Grips" afterwards. Everything was very gay there, and there were a great many passers through as well as Hong Kongites. There were several bachelor parties as usual, looking on.

PEAK PARTY

At a tennis-cum-bridge-cum-mah jongg party on the Peak the other day there were a great variety of toilettes from the snappiest shorts, to the most sweeping formal gowns. I loved Madame de Freccourt's dark blue dress and coat with the rather paisley design about it, she was wearing the latest stitched taffeta hat. And talking of hats Mrs. Brown was seen in the most piquant little model—reminiscent of The Naughty Nineties, and infinitely becoming. Mrs. "Sam" Hamilton looked charming in a black and white flowered dress, while Mrs. E. W. Hamilton who was the guest of honour wore all white.

Alas, lady Southorn was not well enough to be present at the delightful "At Home" at Government House. All the Guides, and friends of the Guide movement were so very sorry not to see her. Mrs. Grist acted as Hostess, with Mrs. Phillips and the commissioners to support her, and we all enjoyed ourselves very much.

MANNEQUIN PARADE

When I went into the ever-popular Lane, Crawford's Ladies Salon on Friday morning, I saw Mrs. Moodie Heddie very busy preparing for their mannequin parade which is to take place shortly. This promises to be a real treat as some of the most exquisite evening gowns, golf suits, and morning, afternoon, cocktail and evening dresses will be on display. In addition they have secured the services of a few charming ladies.

To cope with the "rush" the Ladies Salon will be moving into their new home, the old Sports Department which is also on the mezzanine floor. This is all no doubt due to Mrs. Moodie Heddie's enterprise and to her the best congratulations. Be sure you attend the mannequin parade!

REVUELS AT REPULSE BAY

Repulse Bay again proved the main attraction last Saturday night and over two hundred guests including residents danced to the music of Silverio and his "Revellers". The new song hits from "The Gold Diggers of 1935" and "George White's 1935 Scandals" were played for the first time in the Colony and were received with great applause. These musical revues will be screened in Hong Kong in the near future.

Week-end Dinner Dancing at Repulse Bay is becoming so popular that it will be advisable to reserve early in order to ensure good table positions for next Saturday night when another successful evening is assured.

The confiscated property of the "Press Club" in Vienna, district, The National Socialist publishing house, Brauner Haus, and the property of the club of the National Socialist German Labour Party in Vienna district, was restored on the order of the federal police administration, according to an official announcement, because from an examination of the account books it seems probable that the claims against these bodies exceed the value of the confiscated property.

HOPE OF LAST MINUTE SETTLEMENT

Fate Of Dispute In Hands Of Committee

MEETING MONDAY AFTERNOON

When the League of Nations Council meeting was continued at Geneva this morning for the despatch of the heavy agenda of routine business, the places of France, and Great Britain, Poland and Turkey were occupied by substitute delegates. Laval, Mr. Anthony Eden, Colonel Beck and Dr. Tewfik Arras were attending with Senor de Madariaga of the Spanish delegation, a special meeting of the sub-committee appointed by the Council on Friday night to inquire "into all aspects of relation between Italy and Ethiopia with a view to finding a peaceful settlement."

The Committee held its first meeting at once and elected Senor de Madariaga as chairman and at the second meeting to-day it presumed that M. Laval and Mr. Eden had placed before their colleagues all the documents and reports relating to the Three Power Conference in Paris in August.

Before adjourning till Monday afternoon the Committee is understood to have followed many League precedents in authorising the drafting of a letter to be sent to the Governments of Ethiopia and Italy, urging them carefully to avoid any new incident which would render the situation more difficult or complicate the Committee's task. Laval is reported to have returned to Paris till Monday and Mr. Eden will spend a quiet week-end in the country near Geneva.

The Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, who is recovering from an attack of arthritis and has still to move about with care, visited the Prime Minister this afternoon at Chequers where Mr. Baldwin has gone for the week-end.

Sir Samuel Hoare later conferred with the Permanent Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Sir Robert Vansittart. These conversations were preparatory to the Foreign Secretary's visit to Geneva to attend the assembly of the League of Nations, which opens on Monday, as the leader of the British Delegation. Sir Samuel is leaving Hendon Aerodrome tomorrow forenoon and will fly direct to Geneva in the air Council's special aeroplane.

APPEAL TO ITALY

Geneva, Sept. 7. The committee of five appealed to Italy to do nothing likely to compromise the success of the efforts to settle the dispute. After a brief meeting of the Council M. Laval left for Paris, presumably to consult President Lebrun and the Ministers. M. Laval will return to Geneva on Tuesday.

UNANIMITY AT GENEVA

Paris, Sept. 7. The unanimity of the delegates at Geneva, and the growing solidarity of Britain and France are emphasised in the press. Some newspapers warn Italy that she is facing alone a united and determined League.

"L'Petit Parisien" considers that Italy is very much alive. All the Powers are truly resolved to respect international law, whatever the cost.

"L'Echo de Paris" considers that the position has scarcely altered, but if M. Laval abandons the role of mediator it will accentuate the drift towards Britain, which is already most noticeable. The Italian cause cannot but be harmed.

IRAQ MODEL

Plans are now being formed to hold a new tripartite conference as an alternative council to the committee of five, from which not much hope is entertained at Rome.

French observers are of the opinion that a solution might be reached on the basis of an agreement whereby Italy would occupy a position in Abyssinia similar to that of Britain in Iraq. Abyssinia would retain her League membership, while Italy would carry out police and administrative functions.

One suggestion is that Signor Mussolini might have the satisfaction of employing the troops already despatched for the campaign in cleaning up the border provinces which refused to agree to such proposals.

FUNJABI ARRIVE

Addis Ababa, Sept. 7. Some 120 Punjabis arrived a mile outside the capital yesterday evening and are now safely quartered in the Legation compound. At the special request of the Abyssinian Government they arrived at their destination on foot with as little fuss as possible. The journey from Djibouti was uneventful.

It is reiterated here that the report of general mobilisation or

Dr. Tewfik Arras, Foreign Minister in Turkey, is one of the Committee of Five in whose hands the fate of the Italo-Abyssinian dispute lies.

PEACE APPEALS TO LEAGUE

Deputations Busy At Geneva

Geneva, Sept. 7. An appeal to the League "in the name of millions of workers" to safeguard peace has been handed to Mr. Anthony Eden, British Minister for League of Nations Affairs, by a deputation of the National Federation of Trade Unions and the Bureau of the Second International.

A resolution adopted at a joint meeting of the two organisations confirmed attachment to peace and condemned the "aggressive attitude of Fascist Italy."

Twelve other countries handed similar resolutions to the representatives of their respective countries.

objected to the Council procedure and is ready to discuss any offers made to her if they go far enough. The matter is not likely to rearise before the Council until the Committee of Five reports. It is impossible to foresee when this will be, but proceedings will not be allowed to drag.

The Abyssinians are in a tractable mood so long as their independence seems safeguarded, while Baron Aloisi is expected to deal briskly with many proposals submitted by the Committee as Signor Mussolini has given an assurance that there is no intention of hostilities while discussions continue, but he will not lose a moment for military action (now rapidly approaching) to pass fruitlessly.

M. Laval has gone to Paris for a couple of days and will return on Tuesday. The Committee will meet again on Monday afternoon.

FRONTIER SECURITY

One of the chief claims of the Italian Government is for security of its colonial frontiers. In this connection it is pointed out that Britain and France, which have longer continuous frontiers with Abyssinia than Italy, have not felt the necessity, but due allowance must be made for the atmosphere which has been created between Italy and Ethiopia.

In League circles it is pointed out that the creation of an international gendarmerie with neutral, say Scandinavian officers, would afford a guarantee of security, but the Italians have turned down any such suggestion.

It is believed that M. Laval favoured a force under British and Italian officers, but no such proposal has yet been tabled.

"WE WANT EVERYTHING"

Another idea brought forward is to establish military posts and aerodromes on the lines of those of Great Britain in Iraq, but it may be remarked that these are purely for defence of the British route to India and will not interfere with local affairs, the Iraq Government having its own air force and army.

The Paris proposal would really give the Italians much more than the British have in Iraq, but as Baron Aloisi told the meeting of journalists, "we want everything."

THUMB NAIL SKETCHES

Thumb nail sketches of the five men in whose hands the fate of the dispute lies are:—

Senor de Madariaga: Author and statesman. A very strong champion of the League. Has a sense of caustic humour which he keeps in restraint at public meetings.

BREMEN INCIDENT IN NEW YORK

American Judge Criticised In Germany

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, September 8, 4.30 a.m.)
Berlin, Sept. 7.

The whole of the German press express surprise and indignation at the verdict of the trial of those who took part in the communist attack on the N.D.L. str. Bremen recently, declaring that the remarks made by the District Judge, Louis Brodsky at New York on Friday constitutes an unexampled insult towards Germany. All the accused were acquitted except one, who was lightly punished for being in possession of arms without a licence. Judge Brodsky is reported to have called the Bremen a "pirate ship."

The semi-official Deutsch Diplomatische Korrespondenz publishes an article headed "Judge Brodsky," recalling that the United States Government, after the regrettable episode in New York harbour, immediately apologised to the German Government.

To what extent, says the correspondent, such regrettable events are regulated in America as part of a systematic attempt to disturb world peace in accordance with the aims of the Moscow Comintern is evident in the sharp protest by the Roosevelt Government to the Soviet Government recently, because it is regarded that the interference of Bolshevik ideology is a peril for the peace and order of the world.

All the more embarrassing is the sequel in the Court on Friday. Through the ostentatious acquittal of all the accused, Judge Brodsky indicated personal sympathy with the Communist attack on the Bremen, and in his comment on the judgment he unhesitatingly insulted a foreign flag and a foreign power.

Germany has no occasion to carry on the dispute with Judge Brodsky about the ideals of justice and freedom, but the German people feel itself grievously wounded that a state like America which itself is so proud of its honour, should allow the national honour of a friendly people to be violated with impunity.

Most sections of the German Press declare with confidence that the United States Government will take the necessary steps to mitigate this affront to the susceptibilities of a friendly nation.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ITALY'S MESSAGE TO AMERICA

Ready To Oppose Interference

Asmara, Sept. 7. "The Italian people are ready to oppose by all possible means, even to the most extreme limit, anyone who tries to prejudice Italy to uphold the course of 'history,' declared Count Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, who is now in Eritrea, in a broadcast address to the American people. He is a Captain in the Air Force and has just returned from a scouting expedition with Il Duce's two sons.

Count Ciano said that the Ethiopian rulers are doing all they could to disturb the peace in Africa beyond their frontiers and prevent a rich market being submitted to the economic sway of a civilised world, which is a criminal thing in a world suffering from the effects of a severe crisis.

The true friends of peace in Africa and throughout the world know henceforth what it means to talk of sanctions or other means of aiming to prevent Italy accomplishing her destiny. Italy was resolved to consider elapsed for good all attempts at peaceable collaboration with Ethiopia and will not accept henceforth the promises which they have not kept in the past.

VALIANT ARMY

In Eritrea, where in a few months General de Bono miraculously imparted a mark of East Coast civilisation, there is a valiant army of Italian youth, not one of whom had one word of uncertainty and who when the word came from Il Duce, were ready to go into the fight with utmost resolution.

Those with whom rests the responsibility for the supreme importance in this hour of special importance in the world's history must remember that forty three million Italians are animated by one single religion, assuring in Mussolini's name the future of power to Italy at any price against anybody.—Reuter.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, September 8, 7.30 p.m.)
Geneva, Sept. 8.

The 16th ordinary plenary session of the League of Nations assemblies here on Monday. While the function of the League of Nations Council is to deal with the problems of international politics, the plenary assembly considers the general problems of the League of Nations itself and the development of international collaboration. The procedure will consist as usual first by holding of the plenary session for general discussion of the activity of the League of Nations in the past year and then about a week later the committee work of five reports: (1) questions of law and organisation, (2) League of Nations Budget, (3) disarmament, (4) social and humanitarian questions, (5) political matters.

Monday's meeting must elect a president, two candidates being named, Mr. de Valera, the President of the Irish Free State, and M. Benes, the Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia.

Further business is the choice of three council members to replace those retiring by rotation, the expectation being that Czechoslovakia will be replaced by Roumania, Denmark by Finland, and Mexico by Columbia. Peru or Nicaragua.—Transocean Kuo Min.

POPE ADDRESSES WAR VETERANS

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, September 8, 4.30 a.m.)
Rome, Sept. 7.

Pope Pius XI interrupted his summer leave at the Castle Gandolfo to return to Rome so as to personally welcome the war veterans of all countries of the world who are assembled here in a congress, and to address the delegates at St. Paul's in Basilica, on Saturday, declaring his conviction of the possibility of a friendly settlement of the Italo-Abyssinian conflict.

The Holy Father added that he hoped the just aspirations of a great people would be recognised, but that the fulfilment must be accomplished in peace, Italy being not explicitly named but obviously meant.

The latest news from Geneva gave grounds for hoping that this would be done. The Pope closed by saying that, as Father of Christianity, he would use all the spiritual means at his disposal to maintain peace.—Transocean Kuo Min.

FRIGHT FOR JUNIOR LEADERS

"Jock" McKelvie, the "giant killer." Well might he be proud of this epithet for in two consecutive weeks he had lowered the records of two of the most formidable skips in the Colony, besides being mainly responsible for the defeat of "Jock" two foremost Bowling Clubs in the Colony. On Saturday "Jock" lowered U. M. Omar's 100 per cent. skip record and incidentally the Kowloon Docks secured their second win in two weeks.

The Recreation once more returned to winning form by defeating the Civil Servants by 11 shots and C. G. Silva regained his old form. The Indians failed while playing away in the Bowling Green while the C. C. C. "B" had the better of the argument against their neighbours, the Police.

In the Junior Division the Bowling Green very nearly lost to the Electricians. They finally staved off defeat by the narrowest possible margin. The Kowloon Cricket Club after six successive wins, fell a victim to the Footballers.

"Sevens" were recorded by J. C. Brown and A. M. Holland, while J. McKelvie, C. G. Silva, W. E. Hollands, J. Cavanagh and A. O. Madar had "sixes."

BATHING PICNICS

The rain that fell during the time for on Saturday, did not in any way dampen the spirits of picnickers, and all the organized bathing picnics went through according to schedule.

Three large parties left the Kowloon Police Pier during the afternoon, they being the St. Andrew's Church Club, the Kowloon Anglican Church and the Methodist Church. All proceeded to Big Wave Bay, where a splendid time was had by all.

AQUATIC STARS OF CHINA

Lower Two Records

The finals of the Hong Kong Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation elimination trials in preparation for the National Games in Shanghai were held at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. bath on Saturday night and resulted in some close finishes and the lowering of several of the existing records.

Norman Lee returned a time better than the existing record for the 100 yards Free Style but failed to touch Chan Chan Hing's record by 1-5 of a second.

Lau Po-hay, runner-up in the Colony 100 Yards Back-Stroke championship and holder of the China National record for the 100 Metres Back-Stroke, bettered his own time by 2-5 secs. but it is very doubtful whether the record will be recognised as it was accomplished in a 20 Yards pool. This also applies to Norman Lee's time in the 100 Metres and all other records established in the Chinese "Y" pool.

Results were:—

Men's 100 Metres Free Style:—

Heat 1:—

1-Norman Lee

2-Tsang Ho Fook

Time 55 9-10 secs. (Better National Record time).

Heat 2:—

1-Stanley Lee

2-Phoon Yafu Yam

Time 72 3-5 secs.

Ladies' 100 Metres Free Style:—

1-Miss Yeung Sau Chun

2-Miss Chan Fong Hang

Time 93 1-10 secs.

Men's 100 Metres Back-Stroke:—

1-Lau Po Hay

2-Chan Kai Hin

3-Chan Shui Po

Time 77 1-5 secs. (Beats National Record time).

Ladies' 200 Metres Breast Stroke:—

1-Miss Au Yun Chiu

2-Miss Yeung Kan Wah

Time 3 mins. 35 secs. (Beats National Record time).

Men's 400 Metres Free Style:—

1-Tsang Ho Fook

2-Norman Lee

3-Chan Ping Chiu

Time 4 mins. 1 9-10 secs.

MALAYA WINS

To Meet India In The Finals

Malaya earned the right to enter the final of the International Lawn Bowls Shield Competition by virtue of their splendid victory over England whom they beat on the C.C.C. green yesterday by 18 shots to 15.

There were many bright spots in the game but chief honours must go to A. R. Dallah for the splendid way in which he carried the Malaysians to victory. Taking the players individually the Malaysians were better than the English. Dallah, in particular, did a good day's work after making a couple of mistakes. At one stage the score was 17 shots to 6 in favour of Malaya and until Bradbury came back with a flash of his old mastery things did not look too bright.

On the 20th head, with the score 17 shots to 12 in favour of Malaya (who were lying four) Dallah made a bad mistake in trying to draw which resulted in his wood knocking the jack away to give the Englishmen three sorely needed points.

On the last head, however, he more than made up for it. England was lying three when he, with his last wood, came in for the first shot to make matters certain for the Malaysians.

It was a great game from start to finish and the victors thoroughly deserved their win. The teams were:—

H. Beer A. M. Wahab

INDIA QUALIFIES

India convincingly defeated Portugal in the International Shield semi-final at the Bowling Green Club yesterday by 29 shots to 18. A large crowd saw a game in which there was little to choose between the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 of each team, but the superiority of India was largely due to the supremacy of U. M. Omar who skipped the winning four, over his opponent C. G. Silva.

A three at the first head augured well for India, which they followed up with a five (the only one in the game) in the 4th, to take an early commanding lead of 9 shots to 2.

At the tea interval which was taken when the game had progressed to the 11th head, India lead Portugal by 18 shots to 8, this substantial lead being the result of good bowling on the 8th, 9th and 10th heads when they scored a 3, 2 and a 3 respectively.

After the tea interval, Portugal revived hopes of their supporters by registering a three on the 12th head, but this encouraging sign was short-lived when India retaliated with a 2, 2, 3 and another 3, on the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th heads.

OMAR BRILLIANT

On the 20th head, Portugal made a belated and unavailing effort by scoring a three, and a two on the two final heads, the game terminating with India worthy winners by 29 shots to 18. India's splendid victory was entirely due to the efforts of U. M. Omar who was in deadly form throughout the game. He, of course, had splendid support from his men, who adopted the wise procedure of placing their woods at the back of the jack, which entirely non-pulsed the Portuguese skip, by rendering it risky for him to drive.

There was some brilliant bowling seen during the course of the game, and the winners of this encounter are generally accredited with having the best chance of winning the Shield.

Victory for Essex over Kent by 137 runs. Essex scored 97 (Watt 8 for 48) and 394 (O'Connor 138). Kent 195 and 159.

Yorkshire beat the M.C.C. at Scarborough by one wicket. M.C.C. 179 (Smalles 5 for 68) and 228 (Bowes 5 for 64); Yorkshire: 239 (Hutton 92, Baxter 7 for 52) and 168 for 9 (R. E. S. Wyatt 7 for 87).

The Gentlemen drew with the Players at Folkestone. Players: 270 for 6 dec. (Hammond 180) and 104 for 4 dec.; Gentlemen: 171 and 99 for 5.

LOCAL SOCCER

Club Defeated

At Happy Valley on Saturday, the East Lancashire Regiment gave a very good account of themselves when they defeated the H.K. Football Club seniors by 3 goals to 1.

The soldiers' inside trio were at the height of their form, and their short passing game was a delightful exhibition.

The Club were the first to score, but the soldiers soon equalized through Gaunt who scored when he was left unmarked.

Soon afterwards the soldiers got going again and had the Club defence in difficulties. After some pretty passing, Riddings scored a beautiful goal which gave them the lead.

Midway through the second half, after a bout of short passing, Riddings made no mistake with a shot that beat Rodger all the way.

THE JUNIOES

After a somewhat scrappy game the East Lancashire Regiment Juniors defeated the Club, 2nd XI by 2 goals to 1.

The soldiers were the better team and played superior football, but owing to poor finishing by their forwards, they failed to score in the first half.

There were several newcomers in both teams, Stephens making an excellent debut behind the sticks for the Club. Sykes who played at left-back was one of the best players on the field.

For the East Lancs, Gorman at right-back gave a sound display, while Eckersley, Cox, Crooks, and Ratcliff all newcomers, also shone.

JAPANESE MINISTER PASSES

LOCAL BASEBALL

Japanese Win

Baseball of a poor standard was witnessed in the league encounter between the Japanese and U.S.S. Mindanao, which was played yesterday on the Navy ground, at Caroline Hill, and resulted in a win for the former by 7 runs to 5.

In spite of the fact that two of the American players scored a home run each, the losers were on the whole a weak batting side, and moreover their fielding was very uncertain. The Japanese on the other hand, although not too strong in their batting department, made up for it by their keen fielding. On the whole, the Japanese fully deserved their victory.

The sailors were blanked out in the first three innings, but in the fourth Lodik scored a "homer" to register two runs. The fifth stanza saw them blanked out again, and in the next, two runs were scored through a home run by White, who brought on other batsman home. In the seventh inning, the sailors who had the first knock, scored a solitary point, and as the total then was two runs short of the winners' aggregate, the game ended without the Japanese having to bat again.

Out of the six innings they batted, the Japanese scored in only three. In the first they registered 2 runs, the second 4, and the third 1, while in the remaining 3 innings they were blanked out, which points to the sailors' improvement as the game progressed.

The teams were as follows:—
U.S.S. Mindanao:—Allen (Pitcher), Moore (Catcher), White (1st base), Vacca (2nd base), Lodik (3rd base), Holton (Short Stop), Murphy (Rt. Field) Kigel (Centre Field), Jones (Left Field).
Japanese:—Honda (Pitcher), Hachima (Catcher), Mikuni (1st base), Okawa (2nd base), Takeda (3rd base), Muraya (Short Stop), Yawata (Right Field), Kusano (Centre Field), Yamasaki (Left Field).

DISPUTED RUN

U.S.S. Mindanao did a good day's work on Saturday when, in their needle baseball encounter against the League leaders, the Chinese, they ran out winners by the odd run in 15.

The game was very hotly and evenly contested and right up to the sixth innings the Chinese were three runs in advance. The end of the seventh inning saw a misunderstanding which resulted in the sailors crossing the plate on no less than four occasions.

White, who had played a great game throughout, hit a homer and when he romped home the Chinese protested against it, saying that the man whilst running, was fouled by one of his own men and his run was therefore ineligible.

The umpire ruled it otherwise and then rule books and heated argument ensued. Finally the Chinese took the field under protest.

The last of the seventh innings found the sailors three runs in arrears. Horton reached first safely, and moved to second through Vacca, who was given a walk.

White then chose a ball to his liking and hit it between right and centre field for a home run, thus bringing the other two home to tie the score.

Lodik then reached first on a hit, stole second and was brought home on a two-base hit by Krigal.

The game was won by the Mindanao, but as White's run was under protest the sailors continued batting, but though they had their bases full with only one down, they could not add another run.

Scores by innings:—
Chinese 1 2 3 4 5 6 7
Mindanao 0 0 0 1 0 0 7

"In what reign," asked the teacher of her class, "do we first hear of railways?"

"In Solomon's," at once replied a little girl, who was asked to think again, and, having thought, persisted in her original statement. "Well," said the teacher, with a weary sigh, "tell me why you connect railways with the reign of Solomon."

"Because we are told that the Queen of Sheba went to Jerusalem with a very great train."

HOPES OF LAST MINUTE SETTLEMENT

Geneva, Sept. 8.—Mr. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's Minister for League Affairs and chief delegate at Geneva, M. Pierre Laval, the French Prime Minister and League spokesman, and Baron Aloisi, mouthpiece of the Italian Government, are likely to remain for some time the trio upon whom peace or war depends.

The meeting of the Committee of Five, which is seeking some means of conciliation, and which held its first session to-night, was very brief. It sufficed to appoint Senator Madariaga of Spain its chairman and to set 10.30 o'clock tomorrow for its first meeting.

At this meeting the Committee will probably delegate powers to Mr. Eden and M. Laval to negotiate with Baron Aloisi, though the method of procedure is not yet definite.

Certainly the Committee's spokesmen will approach both sides in the dispute and there is reason to believe that Italy is prepared to accept the Paris proposals as the basis for discussion, provided they are advanced as a point of departure and not as the last word.

THE BARON RETURNS

Geneva, Sept. 6.—The Italo-Abyssinian dispute has been finally relegated to the Committee of Five which was appointed after Baron Aloisi had left this Council chamber. He left the moment the Ethiopian delegates entered.

Baron Aloisi returned immediately after the Committee had been named and the Council had commenced its routine agenda.

The Committee of Five meets when the Council adjourns and will act as a go-between for the two parties to the dispute, attempting negotiations on the basis of the Paris proposals. It is believed.

The personnel of the Committee is Mr. Eden, Britain, M. Laval, France, Colonel Beck, Poland, M. Trefkars, Turkey, and Senator Madariaga, Spain, the chairman.

ITALY WITHDRAWS

Geneva Sept. 8.—An agreement has been reached regarding the composition of the Committee of Five which is to deal with the Italo-Abyssinian dispute. As a result of pressure brought by Britain and France, Italy has withdrawn her objection to these two nations serving on the Committee.

The Ethiopian Government has agreed to appoint M. Tekle Hawariat, the Minister to Paris, as its chief delegate in place of Professor Jeze, to whom the Italians object. Professor Jeze, however, will be M. Hawariat's assistant.

It is understood that this arrangement disposes of yesterday's incident, in which the Italian delegates left the Council chamber because of alleged offensive remarks made by Professor Jeze. Apparently it affords satisfaction to Italy that the Frenchman, who has up to now headed the Ethiopian delegation, has been formally reduced in status.

Council met again this evening. A private session of the Council during the afternoon at which the Italian member, Baron Aloisi, was present, decided on the constitution of the special sub-committee of five to consider the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

FROM THE GAZETTE

LOCAL MEDICAL
REGISTRATION

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to consolidate and amend the law regulating the registration of practitioners in medicine and surgery.

The principal change is the division of the register into two parts. Part I will include those who have hitherto been entitled to registration under section 12 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1884 as the professors of Medicine as well as of the University of Hongkong, who under section 19 of that Ordinance were not required to register but were "deemed to be" registered. Part II will include persons authorized by the Governor to sign medical certificates whose names were published annually in a list in the "Gazette" under section 9 (2) of Ordinance No. 1 of 1884.

One effect of the above change in the register will be to make the persons in Part II of the register "medical practitioners" and as such liable to take out and pay the fees for annual certificates to practice under section 21 (1) of the Stamp Ordinance, No. 8 of 1921. Persons whose whole time is at the disposal of the Crown, professors of the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Hongkong, and persons exempted by the Governor in Council on the ground that their whole time is at the disposal of some charitable institution, do not have to take out such certificates to practise as they are exempted under section 21 (3) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1921, as amended by No. 26 of 1929 and this new Ordinance does not affect that exemption.

Another effect of requiring registration in the case of practitioners, who were not required to register under Ordinance No. 1 of 1884, is that it is made clear that these persons are brought under the jurisdiction of the Medical Board, which after due inquiry, in cases of conviction or infamous conduct in any professional respect, may censure a registered practitioner or direct that his name be struck off the register.

WHEAT DECISION IN CANADA

Home Markets Respond

London, Sept. 7. Liverpool and London quickly responded to the decision of the Canadian Wheat Board to fix the minimum price for No 1 wheat at 87 1/2 cents for the current crop year, which is higher than expected.

Notwithstanding the beneficial rains in Argentina, operators rushed to cover, with sellers holding off.

It is pointed out that with stocks in the southern hemisphere low, the international wheat market is bound to cover part of its requirements from Canadian stocks, which means that prices must be bid up to Canada's level.

On the contrary, however, Russian exports are likely to be stimulated by a higher level and furthermore the world, and particularly the European, demand may be smaller, with the European crop carryovers capable of reduction which might somewhat alleviate the undeniably stringent position caused by the Canadian attitude.—Reuter.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon on Saturday states:-

Apprehension over the Italian-Ethiopian threats of war has apparently found its way into our market during the week under review. Rates in some sections suffered a rather great setback and even investment issues were out of favour with Hong Kong Lands on offer at 35 1/2, Hong Kong Electric at 45 1/2 and Telephones (old) at 320.20. Hong Kong Tramways were dealt in at the reduced rate of 11 1/2. Star Ferries eased off a little and could be obtained at 78 1/2. Dairy Farms maintained their firmness with sales recorded at 15 1/2. Minor issues were again slightly easier. Hotels had sellers at 33.30 and Providents (old) at 50 cents. China Lights remained very steady with business done at 38.10. Cements could be placed at 32.80. Ewos, after having been neglected for a long time, came into prominence with buyers at 35.70. Sinceres were put through at the slightly reduced rate of 45. Sterling currency displayed an easier tendency, Hong Kong Banks having changed hands

BERLIN BOURSE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Sept. 7. A very firm tone prevailed on the sharemarket on Saturday, almost all sections buying orders which were plentiful in the usual week-end, realisation, for this sudden betterment is partly due to the continuation of the satisfactory reports about the applications for Reichs treasury bills, and partly because of the turn for the better of news from Geneva of the Italo-Abyssinian conflict.

Fixed interest securities were in small demand, but there were lively inquiries for Russian stocks following the report from London of the possibilities of a Soviet loan. Call money was at 3 to 3 1/2.

Young Loan was at 102 (Friday quoted) Reichsbanks rose 1 to 1 1/2. Dytrusts 1 1/2 to 1 5/8. Salzdorf-Potash unquoted on Friday, 184 1/2. German Steel Trusts advanced 1 1/2 to 84 1/2. German Mineral Oils rose 1 point to 110 1/2. Siemens-Schuckert sprang 3 1/2 to 179 1/2. Bemberg Rayon improved 1/2 to 114 1/2.

For the first half of the week the sharemarket was depressed, the prices tending to go downwards because there were almost no takers for the small amounts of stock offered. The chief reason for this crumbling tendency was the threatening aspect of the Italo-Abyssinian conflict, which was rendered much tenser by the announcement of the Anglo-American oil concession to exploit the natural riches of the country.

In the second half of the week, the trend was reversed as the small demand for stock was greater than the supply, this being due to the favourable reception given by the public to the 10-year Reichs treasury bonds, whose issue began on Wednesday, and also because the United States Government caused the Standard Oil Company to withdraw from the oil concession deal. Industrial reports were also satisfactory.

The turn for the better in Geneva on Friday made the tone of the sharemarket very buoyant. Fixed interest securities throughout were quiet, the prices on the whole remaining near the level at the opening of the week.—Transocean Kuo Min.
